

Sustainable
Calendar & Journal

2022

'Bakhia' means 'Stitching'. This beautiful journal made from cork cloth, handwoven Khaadi fabric & FSC certified paper is hand stitched by women artisans in Sanganer, Rajasthan.

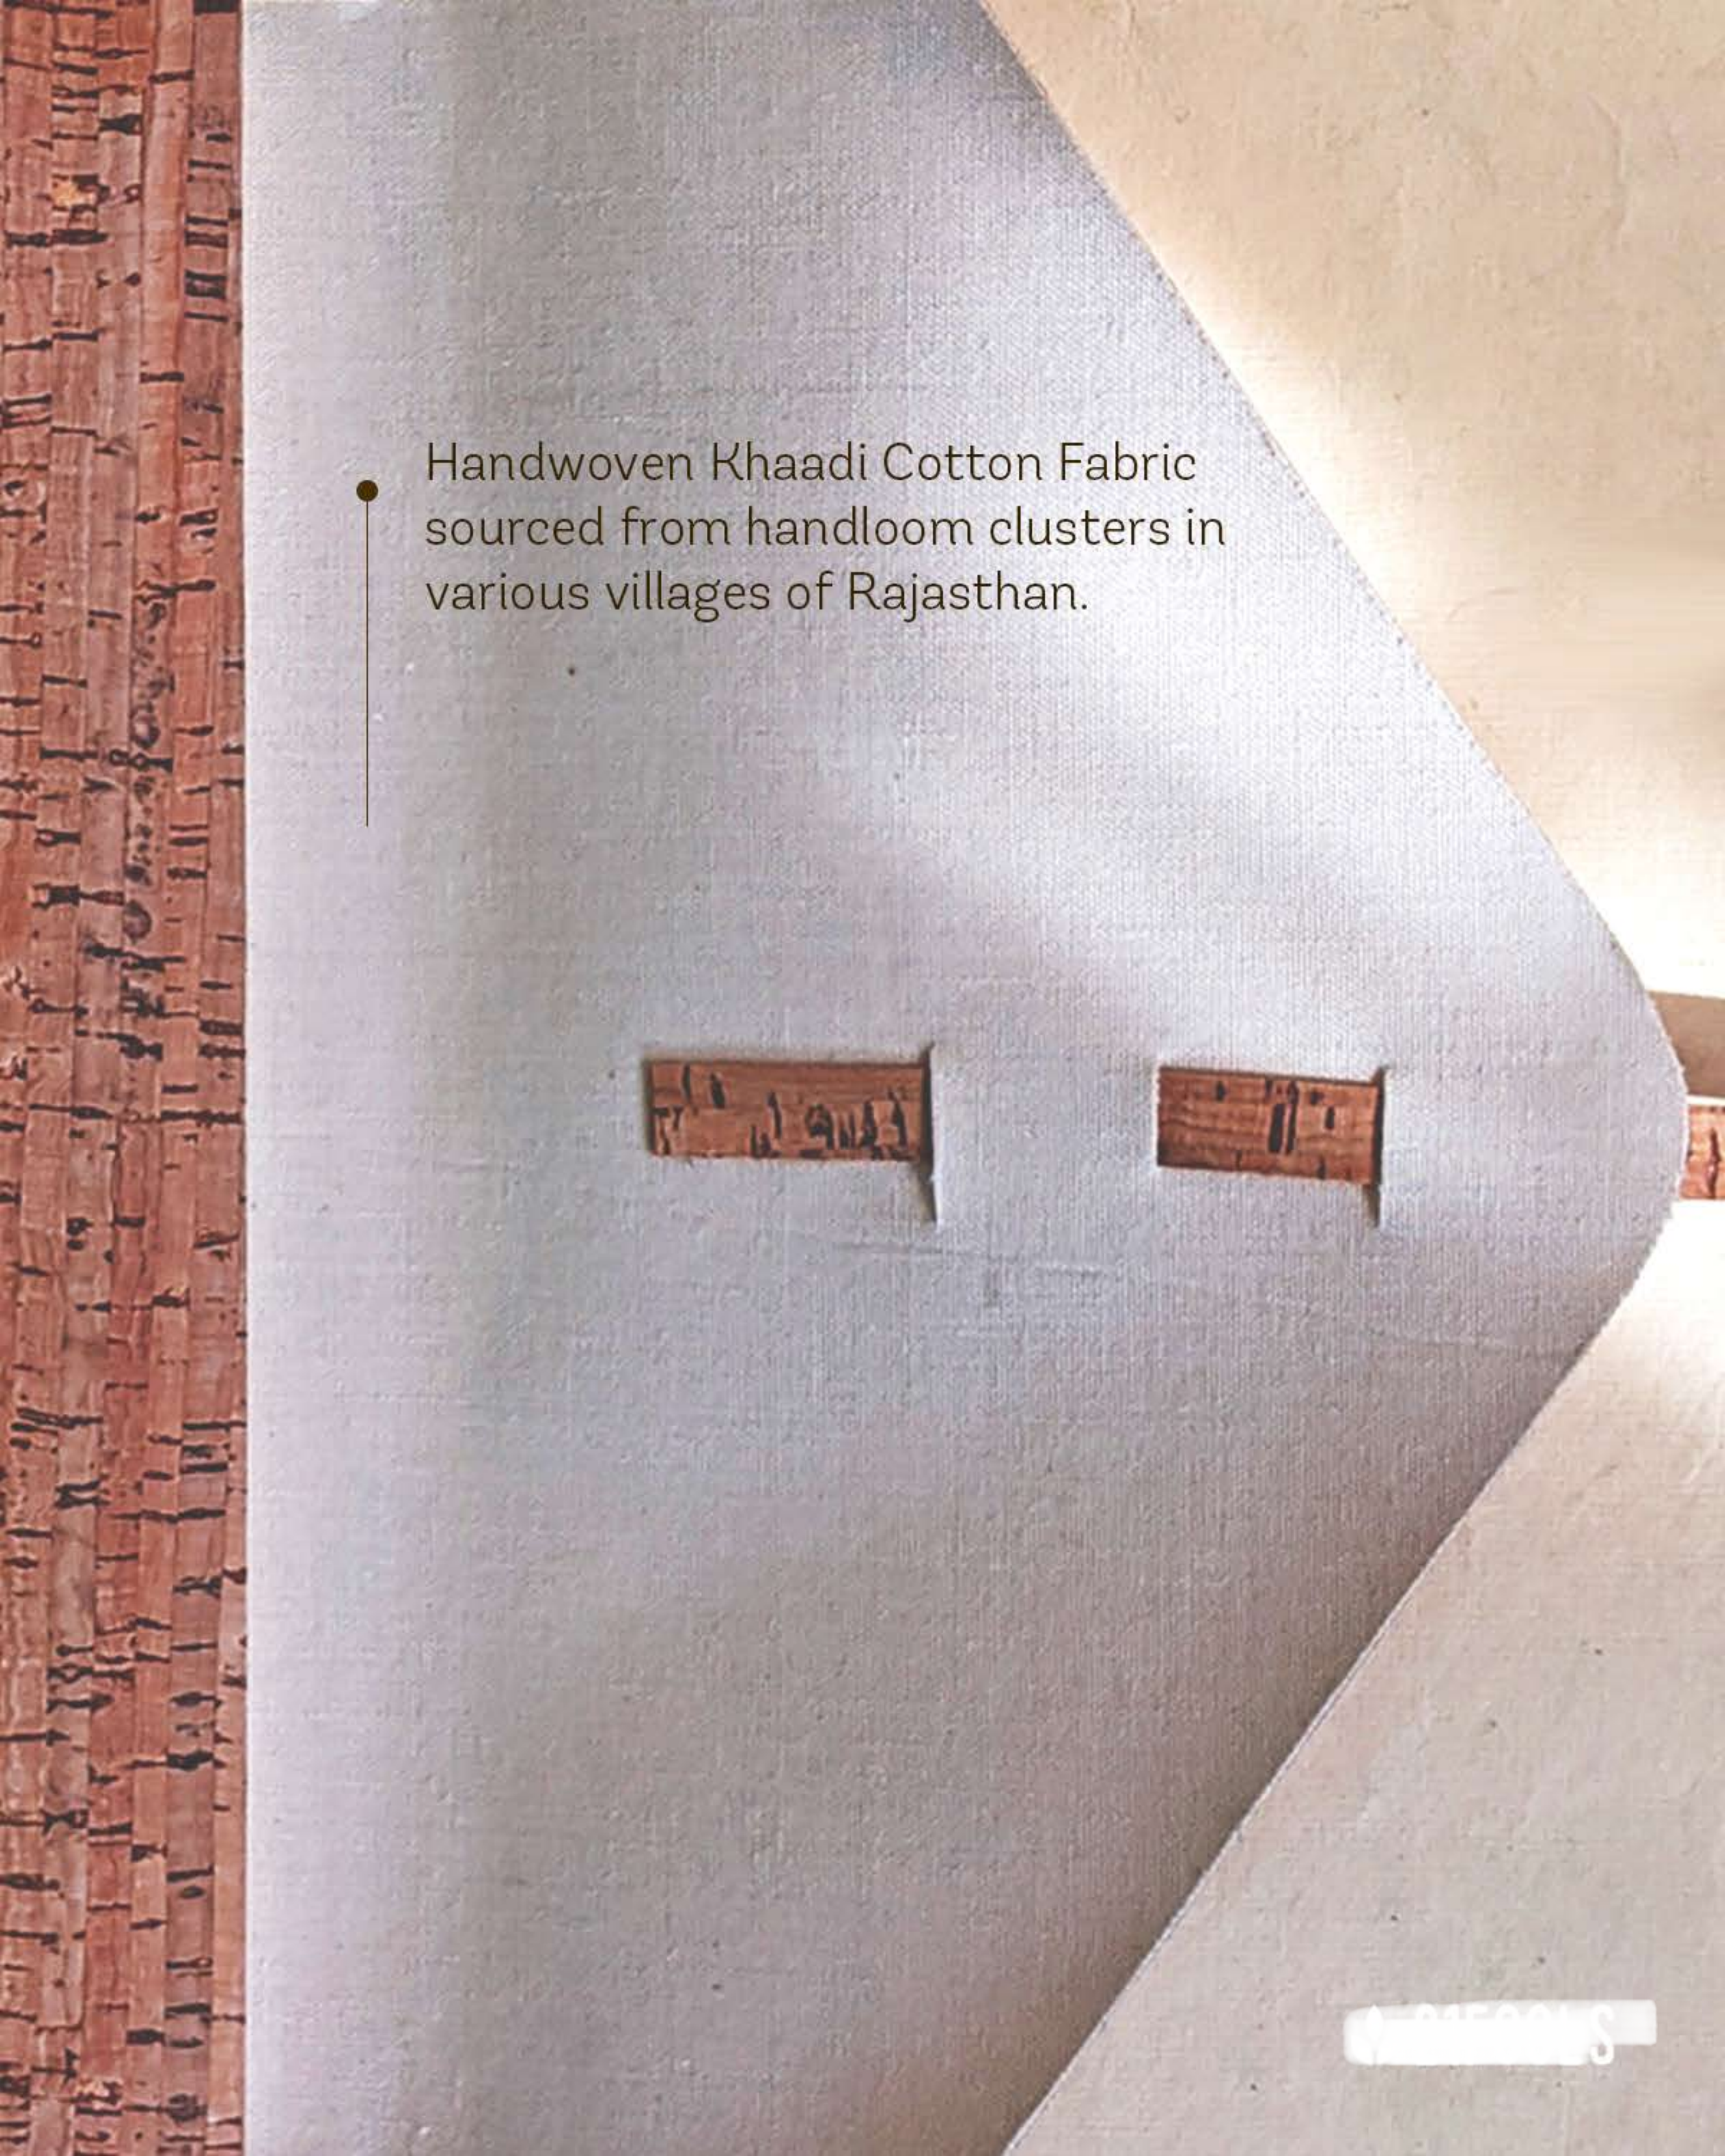

The image shows a close-up of a notebook's spine and cover. The spine is bound with a thick, light-colored waxed cotton thread. The cover is made of cork, which has a distinctive pattern of vertical ridges and dark, irregular spots. A piece of light-colored, textured paper is visible, partially covering the cork. A small white rectangular label is attached to the bottom edge of the paper.

● Waxed Cotton Thread
for long life.

- FSC Certified Premium Paper
meant for smooth writing.
Natural shade.

Cork cloth, an alternative to leather, is sustainably harvested by stripping down the bark of the cork oak tree.

Handwoven Khaadi Cotton Fabric sourced from handloom clusters in various villages of Rajasthan.

'Deckle' is an imperfect & yet a beautiful calendar. It's uniqueness lies in the rough edges of it's Plantable Handmade paper sheets & reclaimed wooden block. Each & every page of the calendar is handmade separately & the dates are letterpressed with utmost precision.

12 Sheets of Handmade paper embedded with seeds. Handmade using cotton waste & live seeds.

Sow the sheets in the soil to grow herbs, vegetables & flowers.

Letterpressed dates - Debossed

Months Embossed using leaf printing

Figure 1: Two journals, one dark green and one reddish-brown cork, illustrating sustainable materials.

